

Climate Protection: Everybody Profits!!!

Save the Date!

June 4, 2007

8:30 am to 1:30 pm

Windsor High School

Join us as we continue our exploration of practices and technologies that enhance the long-term sustainability of our unique public and private Sonoma County assets.

Invitation to follow.

About the Conference:

Join representatives from government, industry and business in building a vision that includes a healthy business environment, reduced greenhouse gas emissions and an unequaled quality of life. Located in Windsor, a city that symbolizes sustainability, learn about the latest and greatest efforts underway to move Sonoma County forward in protecting our environment's future.

What to expect:

- Results of our survey of Sonoma County governments and businesses, offering a snapshot of our progress toward protecting our local and global climate.
- Hear from and talk with those who are making great strides toward sustainability right here in your community.
- We'll highlight the very latest in tools and solutions in energy efficiency, alternative fuels, water efficiency and green building techniques.
